Ranking Member
U.S. House Agriculture Committee
1010 Longworth House Office Building
Washington, D.C. 20515

Chairmen Boozman and Thompson and Ranking Members Klobuchar and Craig:

As SNAP authorized retailers and organizations representing the more than 250,000 retailers serving SNAP participants every day, we urge you to make permanent a provision of the 2018 Farm Bill¹ that protects customers and retailers by prohibiting additional fees from being levied from SNAP electronic benefit transfer (EBT) transactions. This permanent ban was included in the 2024 Farm Bill, "Farm, Food, and National Security Act of 2024,"² which advanced out of the House Agriculture Committee last congress. The permanent ban has also been introduced as a standalone bill this congress.

We respectfully request that the bipartisan "Ensuring Fee-Free Benefit Transactions (EBT) Act"³ be enacted in a multi-year Farm Bill or other vehicle this year to permanently prohibit states and state contractors from levying processing and other related fees from a state's side of a SNAP EBT transaction onto SNAP authorized retailers and their merchant processors.

As private sector partners with the federal government serving as points of redemption for SNAP participants, SNAP authorized retailers are committed to strengthening the integrity and viability of the program for millions of Americans in every community. Retailers invest significant resources to participate in SNAP, including bearing the cost of equipment updates, software, training for store associates, and processing fees and other costs from retailers' side of a SNAP EBT transaction.

SNAP EBT is not a commercial payments system like the credit and debit card markets and should never be treated as such. SNAP EBT is a redemption system in which program funds are added onto a beneficiary's card each month by a state through its state contractor and then used by a SNAP participant to purchase food. Each state bids out to contract with only one entity to administer its state-issued EBT card and process transactions. SNAP authorized retailers and their merchant processors have no say in this state government contract process and must process SNAP EBT transactions through the entity that the state chooses as its sole state contractor.

Congress recognized that SNAP EBT is not a commercial payments system by previously enacting a permanent ban on interchange or swipe fees in the program and including report language to the 2014 Farm Bill⁴ that noted Managers “do not intend for credit card companies, banks, or others to impose any additional fees in regard to the acceptance of SNAP EBT benefits.” Processing or other related fees outside of retailers’ control have never been previously imposed on SNAP authorized retailers and should never be imposed going forward. The bipartisan EBT Act applies the same permanent ban on state-side transaction fees being imposed on retailers and our merchant processors.

Imposing additional processing or other related fees and costs outside of SNAP authorized retailers’ control would be an unfair burden on these businesses and could result in higher costs on consumers or some stores feeling that they are unable to participate in the program, hurting SNAP participants and their communities.

SNAP authorized retailers take pride in serving SNAP participants and customers in every community in the country. Enactment of the EBT Act provides permanent protection for customers and retailers alike.

Sincerely,
